• The Sarah Cannon Cancer Center at Centennial, named after the creator of the beloved character Minnie Pearl, brings together internationally acclaimed research and treatment options for the most comprehensive cancer treatment available in Middle Tennessee.

• The Women's Hospital at Centennial is Tennessee's first hospital dedicated solely to women's healthcare needs, as well as the second largest obstetrics service in Middle Tennessee. Services include: Family Birth Units, NICU, Well Baby Nursery, Women's Surgical Unit, Pediatrics, Women's Receiving Area, Women's Health Center, Rehabilitation and Sub-Acute Care Unit.

• At the Centennial Heart Center, we are proud to offer a full complement of cardiac care delivered by more than 50 cardiac specialists. Each year the heart center performs nearly 1,200 heart surgeries and almost 6,000 minimally invasive cardiac procedures. This total far exceeds the American Heart Association's (AHA) and the American College of Cardiology's recommendation that hospitals perform a minimum of 300 cases per year to ensure quality outcomes. Centennial Heart Center ranks among the top 10% of programs in the country by surgical volume.

• Centennial has received the Top 100 Hospitals of America specialty designation for superior care of stroke, orthopaedics and breast cancer management. These awards honor those medical centers whose systems and procedures are serving as the benchmark for improving healthcare throughout the country. Centennial is one of only a small number of hospitals in the U.S. to earn multiple Top 100 specialty awards.

• Founded in 1971, Parthenon Pavilion at Centennial is the oldest and largest full-service, free-standing psychiatric facility in Middle Tennessee. A 164-bed, full licensed and accredited hospital, the Pavilion offers a comprehensive program of mental health services for adolescents, adults and the elderly.

• Centennial Tower houses the region's most advanced tertiary care treatment capabilities and links all four facilities of the campus together. It opened in November 1994.
